IRA Financial Group, a provider of Rollover Business Startup Solution ("ROBS") solutions, expects to see a surge in the popularity of the ROBS solution based on Donald Trump's Presidential Election victory. Mr. Trump's tax plan has called for a reduction of tax rates on corporations.

The rollover business start-up ("ROBS") arrangements typically involves rolling over a prior IRA or 401(k) plan account into a newly established 401(k) plan, which a start-up C Corporation business sponsored, and then investing the rollover 401(k) Plan funds in the stock of the new C Corporation. The funds are then deposited in the C Corporation bank account and are available for use for business purposes. The ROBS solution is a tax efficient way for any entrepreneur looking to use IRA fund to buy a business or franchise without incurring any tax or penalty from an IRA distribution. "With the expectation of reduced corporate tax rates, operating a business via a C Corporation will become more tax efficient and should increase the popularity of the ROBS
